

Alternatif vacation

The visitors of the island of Elba appreciate since ever the mild and dry summer climate, the beauty of the beaches and the variety of landscapes that make this island unique.

The Casa Campanella Resort suggests a "different" vacation, offering to discover the life of the island outside of the highseason summer months. And there is a lot to discover: the rich cultural past, the splendid coast lines of the arcipelago, the natural and protected areas of international fame.

Add to this the mineral museums and the mines telling the story of our grandparents mining life, the small fishing ports, the vivid markets, the fortified village centers and their military architecture, peaceful landscapes, a mild climate, the tasty food and the excellent local wines and you get all the ingredients for a wonderful vacation.

Sport Activities

The island of Elba is a favorite for mountain-bikers and golf players, a paradise for scuba-divers, an 'infinite track' for hikers, it is the perfect place for whoever loves sport and wants a holiday which combines nature, sea and... physical activity.

On the island of Elba you can test your courage by paragliding or free-climbing one of the many cliffs. Whatever is your choice you will find our competent trainers who will guide you through the new sports you may wish to try and will help beginners.

Food and Beverage

The cultivation of wines has ancient origins: numerous dry-stone walls bear witness to the vineyard boundaries dating as far back as over 3000 years ago. Pliny the Elder defined Elba as being the island which produces huge quantities of wine and on the sea-beds there lie numerous ship wrecks loaded full with amphoras of wine. The Medici and the Lorraine families defended the cultivation of wines and Napoleon ordered the planting of new vineyards. At least 7 wines from Elba have been conferred with D.O.C status: a well deserved reward for a millenary tradition.
